

Smell and Taste 13

a practical introduction to the physiology and pathophysiology of the chemical senses– in Collaboration with  the Japanese Rhinologic Society  The Japanese Rhinologic Society

Sponsored by the European Chemoreception Research Organisation,  ECRO

Where: Lecture hall ("Hörsaal") in house number 19, Fetscherstrasse 74, 01307 Dresden, Germany

Start: Friday, 8th of October, 2021, 9:00 h

End: Saturday, 9th of October, 2021, 15:00 h

Registration deadline: 15th of September 2021

Contact: Thomas Hummel, M.D., thummel@msx.tu-dresden.de

Aims

This course is an attempt to teach Smell and Taste in a most practical and interesting way, meaning that the meeting is not only defined by lectures, but through practical courses and demonstrations. In addition, the meeting is meant to provide a platform for the informal discussion of questions related to clinical issues around smell and taste - to this end we will hold plenary sessions where, for example, cases will be presented. Last, no least, the meeting is meant to build or to strengthen networks among the small community of clinicians interested in smell and taste.

Location

Lecture Hall ("Hörsaal", Haus 40) at the Dekanat, Fetscherstrasse 29, D-01307 Dresden

Practical courses

During the practical courses we will focus on the following:

- > olfactory testing
- > taste testing
- > chemosensory event-related potentials
- > recording of electro-olfactograms
- > electrogustometry
- > retronasal olfactory testing
- > investigations of trigeminal sensitivity
- > nasal endoscopy and intranasal volumetry
- > anatomy of the "olfactory brain"
- > histology of the olfactory epithelium
- > MRI-based volumetry of the olfactory bulb
- > biopsies from the olfactory epithelium
